

CWDC Activities during 2022-23

- 22nd July 2022: Elocution competition: To celebrate the Booker prize awarded to a Hindi novel RET SAMADHI, in translation Tomb of Sand, by Gitanjali Shri ,an elocution competition was held by the CWDC. Eight competitors spoke on various works by Indian women writers. The 3 best speakers were awarded. Congratulations DIVIJ, DHRUJAL and YASH.

- 5th AUGUST 2022: Twenty volunteers celebrated an early rakshabandhan with traffic police personnel tying rakhis onto policemen at Shivranjani crossroads and the Satellite police station traffic police cell. A visibly moved group of policemen appreciated the gesture. Sweets were exchanged in a traditional programme.

- 23rd August 2022: The new batch 2022-23 was welcomed in an orientation programme. The guest of honour was Dr. M.M.Desai ,retired professor of the Statistics Department and a well-known social worker of the city. She was also the founder member of the cell and she motivated students with her talk. 35 student volunteers were felicitated for their contribution to last year's activities.

- A workshop on gift wrapping and card making was held preceding Diwali vacations in the month of Oct 2022. Students learnt new ideas on sending personally wrapped gifts. We thank

Ms Kirti Singh Rajput, an alumna for her enthusiastic training.

- 10th January 2023: Distribution of khichdi by CWDC volunteers. Around 15 kgs of masala khichdi was distributed to homeless and construction site workers from material collected from student body. We thank principal sir for his constant support and put on record special efforts of Daalichand bhai who cooked the khichdi and Shantibhai who was with us for the entire trip.
